Baseline - ISO 27002 based: generic and specific Integration in management and development processes

The ISMS model is supported by a baseline with a grouping of relevant ISO 27002 controls in 12 theme's. For each theme you can describe what (strategic) choices you have made, what is generic and what is service or department specific. The 12 theme's are designed to be close to the daily working processes. Because the baseline is ISO 27000 based, as well as the management processes, the organization will be well prepared for a future certification process.
